TO MAKE FINAL PLANS TONIGHT

Stockholders of Newly Organized Furniture Company Will Prepare to Build Factory.

MAY ACT AS OWN CONTRACTORS

Believed That the Structure Can be Erected by Company—May Let Contract, However.

Tonight the stockholders of the newly formed local furniture company will meet to make the final plans for the erection of the fifty thousand dollar factory which has been planned for some weeks. At that time plans will be laid for the erection of the building and tomorrow it will no doubt be announced when the ground will be broken for the foundation.

It will be decided at the session of the stockholders this evening, as to whether or not the building will be erected by the company or by outside contractors. It has long been an open question as to whether the company should advertise for bids and award the contract to the lowest bidder who would furnish the necessary credentials.

It is the prevailing opinion among the stockholders that the building can be erected just as well by the company. There are a number of experienced men in the company who could well superintend the erection of the building. Members of the company drew the plans for the building and thus saved the expense of employing an architect. They also plan to buy their own machinery without the aid of an expert and will thus save a great deal of expense.

Members of the company say that the price to be paid for electricity that will be used as motor power and lighting will be settled satisfactory to the company and the city council as well. They believe that they can get the current at a rate as cheap as that which is charged in other cities.

Members of the company say that the report which has become current to the effect that the lumber in the old Sterling Buggy Company building, which is now being torn down, would be used in constructing the new factory building, is false. They declare that all of the material used will be new as it is expected to erect a building that will last for some years to come.

VICTIM'S FUNERAL WAS HELD TODAY

Samuel Tuttle Was Member of Con-nersville G. A. R. and Was in Libby Prison 12 Months.

CORONER HAS INVESTIGATED

The funeral services of Samuel Tuttle, who died in the hospital in Indianapolis Monday night from a fractured skull, were held this afternoon at two o'clock in the Christian church in Orange. Mr. Tuttle served throughout the Civil war and spent twelve months in Libby prison. He was a member of the Connersville post of the G. A. R., who attended the services in a body.

After investigating the circumstances surrounding his death, the coroner of Marion county learned nothing to substantiate the foul play theory. He might have fallen on the sidewalk and sustained the fatal fracture of the skull.

HOPE FOR HOT DEBATE

President Schrichte Wants Enthusiasm at Merchants' Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association will be held in the court house assembly room tomorrow night at eight o'clock. It is hoped by the officers of the association that a large number of merchants and other members of the association will be in attendance. Something for the good of the association and for the good of Rushville is always promised and it is hoped by President Schrichte that an interesting debate for the welfare of the city may be started.

REPORT EXPECTED TO COME VERY SOON

Finding of Committee as Result of Inspection of Gill Selective System Here, is Due.

NOT BLOCK SYSTEM, THEY SAY

It is expected that a report will be forthcoming from a special committee of interurban men and a representative of the railroad commission within a few days as the result of the inspection of the Gill selective system which was held here last Friday. The committee will report as to whether or not the system which was tried out here, is suitable for the adoption on traction lines as a substitute for block systems which was ordered by the railroad commission.

The members of the commission say that the Gill selective system is by no means a block system and should not be confused as such. According to Indianapolis newspapers, the commissioners found on their trip here, that by such control as that inspected the dispatcher could stop a car at any place and prevent a collision, provided the two cars were running toward one another had not progressed so far as to have passed the last signal stations on either side of the meeting point.

POSEY WISHES A SECOND NEW ROAD

Seventy Residents of That Township
File Petition For Improvement of Highway.

SEVENTEEN IN LAST MONTH

Residents of Posey township filed a petition in the auditor's office late yesterday afternoon, asking that the commissioners order the improvement of a highway in that township. This is the second petition for the improvement of a road in Posey township, which has been filed in the last few days. It makes a total of seventeen petitions for new roads that have been filed in the auditor's office within the last month.

There are seventy petitioners, all of whom allege to be freeholders of the township. They assert in the petition that the road is less than three miles in length and connects the Ripley-Posey township line on the north with a free gravel road on the south. They ask that it be drained graded and improved with gravel. It is declared that the road will be of public utility and that a free rural mail route traverses the road to be improved.

PROPERTY VALUE LOWER THIS YEAR

County Auditor Stone Believes There Will be Little Increase Shown in Assessors' Returns.

FOUR MAKE REPORTS TODAY

All Give Loss on Appraised Value of Personal and Gain on Real Estate.

It is the opinion of County Auditor Jesse Stone that the appraised value of the taxable property in Rush county this year will show very little increase over that of last year. From counties surrounding Rush county have come stories of great gains that were expected largely on account of the increase which was expected to be made on the appraised value of land. But the county auditor believes that the increase, if any, will be very small.

Four township assessors made their report to the county auditor today and it is expected that the remainder will bring in the results of their work tomorrow. The reports from Posey, Ripley, Orange and Richland all showed a loss ranging from $15,000 to $43,000 on the appraised value of personal property and a gain of five per cent on land valuations. The loss in Posey is $28,000; in Ripley, $30,000; in Orange, $15,000, and in Richland, $43,000.

The loss on personal property, the county auditor says, is largely due to conditions and the price of commodities, which are constantly changing. He cites as a reason for the appraised value of personal property being lower this year, the fact that last year hogs were assessed at six dollars a hundred and this year they were assessed at five; this year corn was assessed at thirty cents a bushel and last year at fifty cents a bushel.

The appraised value of improvements on real estate is about the same as it was last year, as, the county auditor says, it seldom varies. All assessors over the county agreed that a five per cent increase should be put on land appraisement value, which accounts for the increase over that of four years ago, when the last appraisement was taken.

FAWCETT ILL AGAIN.

Connersville News: A number of the Connersville friends of John W. Fawcett, who lately removed from this city to Kent, Ohio, were apprised Tuesday by Mrs. Fawcett that he was seriously ill. He suffered an attack a few days ago similar to the one he suffered here several months ago but the last attack is regarded as even more serious. He was unconscious for several hours and a specialist and trained nurse were called to attend him.

TO HOLD FIELD DAY.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual field day events and exercises on Wednesday, May 31, at the Spiceland academy. As usual, this year the program includes the track and field events and also provides for two baseball games, morning and afternoon. In the morning the academy club will play the alumni team, and in the afternoon will combat with the Maxwell-Briscoe club of New Castle.

CONSENT GIVEN FOR TABERNACLE

City Council Grants Permission to Erect Frame Building Within Fire Limits For Revival.

HEAR SEVERAL PETITIONS

Many Property Owners File Remonstrance Against Sidewalk Improvement in Market Street.

The city council in regular session last night transacted the regular routine of business and nothing of great importance was done.

The property owners in Third and Perkins street filed a written statement giving their consent to the erection of the tabernacle for the meetings to be conducted by the Rev. W. W. Orr. This was, necessary, since the building will be built of wood and is in the fire limits.

Frank Reynolds, as secretary of the place committee petitioned the council to wire the building and furnish the electricity free. This the council will do since the committee will pay for the work of wiring. This arrangement is similar to the plan followed by the Catholic carnival and the Chautauqua. With the council's permission to erect the building the arrangements are now completed and the work will be started at once.

A remonstrance, signed by fourteen property owners, against the proposed sidewalk improvement in Market street, was presented at the meeting. The petition for the improvement was read at the last meeting but no action was taken. The remonstrance was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

The council heard a petition from the property owners in Ninth street. They desired the city to oil Ninth street from Jackson to Sexton street. The petition stated that the street was in an unsanitary condition and should be improved. Their request was turned down because the city thought if they oiled one street around the city park they would have to oil all and this they could not do.

Lee Literal requested the privilege to construct a cement walk in Market street. He was given permission to do so, since it will be built at his expense.

About $3500 was paid out in claims before the meeting adjourned.

ARRANGE TO GO IN SPECIAL TRAIN

Party of One Hundred Will Attend Ascension Day Exercises in Knightstown Sunday.

WOMEN ARE URGED TO GO

It is expected that at least one hundred from this city will attend the Ascension day exercises in Knightstown next Sunday. A special train on the Big Four railroad has been ordered to carry the party from this city. The Knightstown Knights Templar have planned a program for most of the day and a rare time is anticipated. Local knights are urged to take their wives and women friends as the invitations state that special entertainment has been provided for the women. The sessions will be held in the Knightstown Methodist church. The special train will leave the Big Four station at 8:30 a. m.

HAVE EPIDEMIC AT HOME

S. & S. Orphans Home Band Will Not Take Part at Richmond.

An epidemic of diphtheria and measles has broken out at the Indiana State Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, with a result that the band, composed of inmates of the home, will not be permitted to go to Richmond this week to take part in the annual encampment of the Indiana G. A. R. The epidemic was reported to the State board of health by the superintendent of the school, who said there was a large number of cases of measles, and several cases of diphtheria.

ASKED POLICE TO PREVENT SUICIDE

Frank Farley Claimed Woman Was About to Drink Chloroform and Wanted to Save Her.

WAS FINALLY SENT HOME

The police were called upon last night to stop a suicide. At least this is what Frank Farley would have had them believe. He came to the officers about nine o'clock and stated that Mrs. Mary Sweet had purchased a vile of chloroform from a local drug store with the intentions of killing herself. He pleaded with the police to aid him in rescuing the woman from such an untimely death and his plea was so earnest that he cried and sobbed. The officers went with him to Mrs. Sweet's apartments in the Commercial Block and found her sitting in a chair, laughing and in a good humor with seemingly little thought of suicide.

The result of this was that Farley got angry and wanted to arrest the druggist. He claimed that the druggist had no right to sell chloroform without a prescription. Farley persisted in filing an affidavit and the police had to get the prosecutor out of his bed, but no action was taken. It is thought the woman had no intentions of taking the poison and the affair ended by Farley being sent home.

HORSE FRIGHTENS; MEN THROWN OUT

Frank Curson and Nicholas Westerfield Escape Injury in Runaway Accident in Manilla.

ANIMAL IS SCARED AT AUTO

A horse belonging to Alonzo Mull of Manilla, became frightened at a passing automobile and ran away at noon Tuesday through the streets of that little city. The buggy was occupied by Frank Curson and Nicholas Westerfield, who were unable to check the animal in its mad dash through the town.

In attempting to turn a corner the buggy was overturned and thrown against the fence in front of the residence property of Dr. Green, and the occupants of the rig narrowly escaped being pinned beneath the demolished buggy. The horse was stopped by the neighbors who flocked to the scene of the excitement before it could proceed and do further damage. Other than a few slight cuts and bruises the men who occupied the buggy are uninjured.

WILL BE BUILT BY VOLUNTEERS

Committees Will Call on Men of City to Erect Large Tabernacle For Revival.

THE WORK IS BEGUN ALREADY

Women's Mass Meeting Will be Held to Prepare For Protracted Series.

The committees in charge of the erection of the big tabernacle which will be used for the Orr revival meeting that will be held here June 7 to 21, will solicit the aid of volunteer workers to build the structure. It became known today that the committee would depend upon the men of the city to drive the nails and do the manual labor necessary in erecting such a building.

It has been thought for some time that this would be the plan of the committees, but it was never made public until today. Ministers as well as professional men, laboring men and business men are expected to rally around the committees and give all of the assistance which it will be possible for them to render. It is understood that several men in all walks of life have already consented to work on the building and it is the general belief that it can be erected easily in that manner if Rushville men will all come forward and offer their services.

The committees in charge of the work point to the fact that a very small congregation in Indianapolis erected a large tabernacle there in one day. All classes of men joined in the work and in one day the Hill-side Christian church congregation had a tabernacle in which to hold a revival meeting.

At the meeting of the finance and place committees last evening Harry Clifford and Frank Reynolds, members of the committees, were instructed to buy the lumber and make the necessary preparations for the beginning of the work. A. T. Mahin, who has been made a member of the place committee as a representative of the St. Paul M. E. church, has been given complete charge of the lighting of the tabernacle and will attend to the same.

ANOTHER PLEADED NOT GUILTY TODAY

J. F. Stevens Took Possession of Flag Shanty and Refused to Vacate Until Police Came.

THEY WILL HAVE TO SHOW HIM

J. F. Stevens pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunk this afternoon in the mayor's court. Stevens gave his home as Lebanon and said he was born in this city, but had not been here for twenty-five years. Policeman McAllister arrested him this morning at the Pennsylvania flag house in North Main street. He had taken possession of the house and the flagman could not get him to leave. When the officer arrived Stevens was sound asleep. He wanted to know if they did not have a patrol wagon as he did not want to walk to jail. Stevens said they would have to show him that he was drunk and the trial was set for 7:30 tonight. McAllister has several witnesses and it is said little difficulty will be had in finding him guilty.

CAMPAIGN IS STARTED TODAY

Efforts Begun This Morning to Raise $50,000 to Pay Debt Hanging
Over Earlham College

HANCOCK AND RUSH DISTRICT

Charles Whitely of Carthage and Prof. Trueblood Will be at Head of Work Here.

Richmond, Ind., May 17.—The active campaign to raise $50,000 with which to pay the debt that has been hanging for Earlham College began in earnest this morning in eighteen Indiana counties—which comprise ten of the districts in which the college's teams will canvass for funds during the next two weeks.

Hancock and Rush counties constitute one of these districts being known as No. 8. Prof. E. B. Trueblood of Earlham and Charles Whitely of Carthage will head the work in these counties, and they will have the assistance of from twelve to fifteen active and influential members of the Friends church in these counties.

Working together they will reach every friend and everyone in these counties who is interested in Earlham. Automobiles have been provided in order that the canvass may be quickly made. The entire campaign in both the Indiana and the Western Yearly Meetings of the Friends must be finished by June 21, Commencement Day. All subscriptions are made upon the condition that the entire $50,000 must be raised by that time—otherwise none is binding.

Morton C. Pearson, chairman of the campaign committee, says the field organization is in good shape and that with the assistance of those who should help, the campaign will be concluded speedily and with success.

A HOPEFUL MESSAGE TO SCALP SUFFERERS AND MEN WHO'S HAIR IS TURNING

Dandruff now—bald later. The same is true of scalp diseases. In fact baldness is a scalp disease. The trouble with the greasy salves and lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do anything but temporarily relieve the itching and make the dandruff so it doesn't fall until its dried out again. Nothing can cure—really cure such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germs causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp the F. E. Walcott Drug Store on proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is ZEMO, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and ZEMO SOAP to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff or scale and by its antiseptic qualities soothe and heal.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SOUTH

Mr. Taft Sends Greetings to Confederate Veterans.

GETTING CLOSER TOGETHER

The President, in Token of a Reunited Country, Recognizes Heroic Services of Men Who Wore the Gray in Long Struggle Half a Century Ago, and Sends to Their Encampment at Little Rock a Message of Felicitation.

Little Rock, Ark., May 17.—With 20,000 veterans and about 40,000 other visitors in attendance, the annual convention of Confederate Veterans is in session here. General George I. Gordon of Memphis, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, is presiding. The following was read from President Taft and the convention ordered a message of thanks transmitted at once:

"To the Confederate veterans who are now assembled in Little Rock, I send heartiest greetings and express the hope that they will have a pleasant, successful reunion. The men of the Confederate army fought for a principle which they thought to be right and for which they were willing to give their lives, their homes, in fact all those things which men hold most dear. As we recognize their heroic services, so they and their descendants must honor the services rendered by the gallant sons of the north in the struggle for the preservation of the Union. The contending forces of nearly half a century ago have given place to a united north and south and to an enduring union in whose responsibilities and glories we equally and gratefully share.

"During my visits south it has gratified me greatly to see those who fought for the blue and those who fought for the gray mingle together, worship the old flag and feel a common pride in the deeds of heroism that were displayed in the civil war. One of the most pleasant incidents of my visits south was the evident desire on the part of its people to confirm to the world that we are getting closer and closer together. I congratulate the south on the wonderful progress which it is now making and on the spirit of civic pride which it is displaying.—W. H. Taft."

SWALLOWED DIAMOND

Jeweler Much Astonished by Act of Neighboring Shopman.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 17.—Jeweler Harry Fassen of Pittston lost $100 because Tailor Max Marcus, a neighboring shopman, swallowed a diamond. Marcus is that much in.

Fassen received a shipment of unmounted diamonds and was examining them when Marcus, the tailor, strolled in. They admired the diamonds together and Marcus said he did not see how it was possible to prevent the miners in diamond mines stealing a lot of the stones they found.

"They could swallow them, you know," he explained, and then, picking up one of the larger stones, he placed it on his tongue. "Why, I'll bet I could swallow this easily," he declared.

"It will cost you $50 if you do," laughingly remarked his friend Fassen.

"That's a go," exclaimed the tailor, and before the jeweler could recover from his astonishment Marcus seized a glass of water and gulped down both the water and the diamond. Then he pushed $50 across the showcase to the astounded Fassen, grinned and walked out of the shop. Fassen says the diamond cost him $150.

AS TO POSTERITY.

America is at present taking great interest in her ancestry. We have all sorts of patriotic societies, and none among us is more proud than those who trace their ancestry back to the Mayflower, Plymouth rock, or who can proudly claim to be sons and daughters of the Revolution. But is the ancestry the only important family pride? How about the posterity? Is the strain running out because of unworthy ideals of parenthood, because of a lack of the courage of sacrifice or a growing fondness for the fleshpots of Egypt? To be true to our ancestry means, in high souled dignity, to provide for our posterity. Oh, young American men and women, proud of your family, of your blood, of your ancestry, remember that to honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, means this—to bury, through a noble conception of the dignity of parenthood, your ancestry in your progeny and by a lordly conception of the meaning of life to aspire, if God shall grant you this grace, to be worthy disciples of its majestic dignities and faithful stewards of its disciplining, engaging and joyful occupations. — Rev. Nehemiah Boynton.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow:

Help the kidneys do their work.

Doan's Kidney Pills build up weak kidneys.

Rushville people endorse our claim.

Mason Maxey, 836 West Third street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy of great merit and I therefore hold them in high esteem. When I procured my first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store, three years ago, I was badly in need of a remedy that would relieve me of the pains in my back. I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a reliable preparation for that purpose and by the time I had finished the contents of two boxes, the pain disappeared. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills at that time and the lapse of three years has not changed my opinion of them. I willingly confirm all I said in my original statement."

THE GARY COUNCIL IS ROUNDLY CONDEMNED

Citizens Say City Rights Were Given Away.

Gary, Ind., May 17.—Because the city council majority ratified a fifty-year franchise granting traction rights to Charles H. Geist, the Philadelphia gas magnate, and his Calumet United Railways company, business men of Gary are up in arms. Further feeling was created when it was learned that Mayor Knotts, instead of exercising his veto, signed the franchise ordinance, and as a result investigations and probable impeachment proceedings are hinted at.

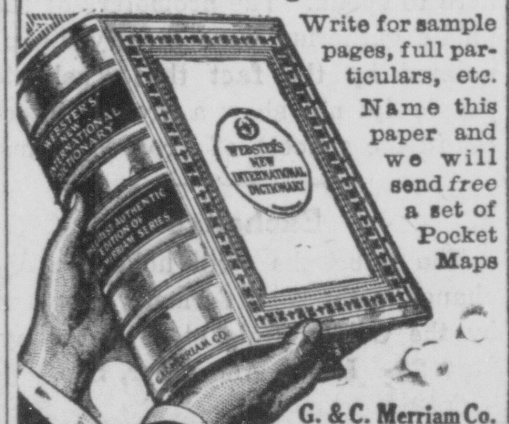

The franchise gives Geist a fifty-year right to use the streets of Gary. The lack of a provision for universal transfers, the permission to charge a straight nickel fare, the use of nearly all the streets and the lack of a forfeiture clause for failure to comply with the terms of the grant are bitterly assailed. Geist does not have to begin the construction of his line until six months after he obtains franchises in all adjoining cities, and he does not have to operate his cars until three years after that indefinite time. The existent Gary and interurban franchise calls for a 3-cent fare after 1913, universal transfers and gives the city a share in the profits. Taken as a whole, experts say, the franchise is the most complete giving away of city rights ever attempted in Indiana.

The Standard Facing Trial.

Rochester, N. Y., May 17.—The Standard Oil company will be called to the bar here next Monday, before Judge John R. Hazel in the United States district court. There are 188 indictments charging the acceptance of rebates, the indictments having been pending for several years. In case of convictions a total fine of $3,760,000 is possible should Judge Hazel decide to assess the maximum punishment.

CABINET APPROVES ARBITRATION TREATY

Momentous Document Ready to Submit to England.

Washington, May 17.—The final draft of the proposed general arbitration treaty by the United States and England has been approved by the cabinet and will be shortly submitted to the British government through Ambassador Bryce. The convention provides for the arbitration of all future disputes between the two countries and will supersede the existing convention, which exempts from arbitration questions affecting the national honor, the vital interest, and questions affecting the rights of third parties. Secretary of State Knox hopes that the convention will be signed in time to submit to the senate for ratification at the present session.

MAY AMEND IT

Anti-Trust Law Not Strong Enough, Say Many Congressmen.

Washington, May 17.—The decision of the supreme court in the Standard Oil case interpreting the Sherman anti-trust law will result in a good deal of agitation in congress for the amendment of that statute. This became apparent when Republican insurgents and many Democrats plainly showed discontent over the decision limiting the application of the Sherman anti-trust law to combinations in "unreasonable" restraint of interstate commerce.

Two Boys and a Gun.

Berry, Ky., May 17.—Albert Elliott, aged fourteen years, accidentally shot and killed his chum, Robert Pogue, aged seventeen.

LAND COMFORTS WHILE AT SEA

New Olympic and Titanic Will Have Squash Courts.

ALL KINDS OF BATHS COMMON

Growing Tendency to Amuse the Voyager and Make Him Forget He's at Sea Leads to Construction of Golf Course of Eighteen Holes.

The announcement that a squash racket court will be one of the features of the great White Star line steamship Olympic, soon to be in service, and the Titanic, now building, calls attention to the constantly growing tendency to give the sea traveler every comfort and luxury that can be obtained ashore.

The squash racket court will be placed directly above the keel, five levels up from the skin of the ship, counting the bottom as one, double bottom as two, bed plates, lower orlop and orlop. The court, which will be available for tennis, handball, squash or rackets, will be on the lower deck, also designated as the "G" deck.

Court Two Stories High.

The court will be 30 by 20 feet in size. It will extend up through the middle of "G" and "F" decks as high as the main, or "E" deck, for the Olympic and the Titanic are each fifteen stories high, as follows: Floor, double bottom, bed plates and lower orlop, orlop, lower, middle, main, saloon, upper, promenade, upper promenade, boat and sun decks and extra compass platform.

All the other ships of the line are to be fitted up with squash courts also. A coach will be engaged for each steamer.

Features put forth by different lines are nationally characteristic. The Rotterdam of the Holland-American line prides herself upon her baths. Nearly every third room on board the Rotterdam is a bathroom. Even each room of her swell suits has its own tub, with all kinds of water.

Besides a smoke room, with a balcony running around it, a library and a social hall, the Rotterdam has also a palm court. The Rotterdam was first with a glass inclosed deck. They are all having them now.

The Russian-American line maintains a chapel upon each of its steamers, while ikons hang here and there, and the sacred lamp is ever kept burning in the main cabin.

Furnish All Kinds of Baths.

The White Star liner Adriatic now has a swimming pool, but the Olympic and the Titanic will have tanks 32 by 13 feet as well as Turkish and electric baths, with a hot room 16 by 20, a cooling room 20 by 32 and a gymnasium 46 by 18 feet.

All the North German Lloyd liners now have glass inclosed decks, open air cafes and meals a la carte or table d'hote.

The Royal Mail Steam Packet company erects canvas tanks which are filled with salt water, running in and out, for swimming in the tropics. The Hamburg-American line also rigs the same kind of diving pools. On the Royal Mail you can purchase an entire suit of clothes from the barber, and the Lapland of the Red Star line runs a dry goods shop.

The Venezia of the Fabre line has a lovers' seat, just looking aft for two, on the boat deck looking aft.

The Titanic will have a golf course of eighteen holes, with the hazard under the lifeboats; also will the same kind of links be laid out on the sun deck of the Olympic. Roller skates will be available to all.

Adriatic Has Theater.

The Adriatic has a theater, with a proscenium arch and several sets of scenery executed by the deck steward, Ernest Freeman, who paints in the baggage room after his charges have turned in.

The new Franconia of the Cunard line has a machine shop with a capacity for turning out a big job on a rolling sea. It has also a fresh water distilling plant.

It was not so very long ago that the Fabre liners carried cows that the babies might have fresh milk. The crews of the Royal Mail run an open game of the lottery style upon the after hatch every night under the tropics.

The Europa of the Hamburg line, to be the biggest ship in the world, and the Deutschland, to be renamed the Victoria Luise, a cruising steamer, are to have U shaped tanks, within which water will swish back and forth, flopping every time a wave strikes the hull and counteracting the effect of the blow. These are the "no seasickness ships."

Korea's Principal Ports.

Fusan and Jinsen are the two principal ports of Korea. Fusan is one of the best ports in the far east, only thirty miles from the northern extremity of Tsushima island, Japan. The town has fine streets and is densely populated. All over the town commercial activity is in evidence. The population includes 20,000 Japanese, whose administration of the town is rapidly increasing its prosperity. Jinsen, open to trade since 1882, was then only a small fishing village. It is also prosperous, with a population of 5,500, one-third Japanese.

FARMERS STILL FOR ROOSEVELT

Western Poll Gives Him Majority of 15,000 Votes.

LA FOLLETTE SECOND CHOICE.

Bristow Is Third in Kansas Newspaper Ballot—Taft Came Sixth, Last of the Republican Candidates Mentioned. Democrats For Wilson and Clark.

Arthur Capper, editor of the Topeka Capital and other Kansas newspapers, has taken a poll in one of his publications, the Missouri Valley Farmer, on the choice of western farmers for a candidate for president in 1912. The Farmer circulates exclusively among the farmers of the middle west. Recently the paper, under the heading, "Wanted—A President For 1912," printed a ballot on which its readers were requested to indicate a first, second and third choice. The ballot bore the names of Taft, Roosevelt, Wilson, La Follette, Champ Clark, Bristow, Cummins and Beveridge and blank spaces for writing in the names of any candidate not mentioned.

A Majority For Roosevelt.

Fifteen thousand ballots have been returned, all from farmers of western states. Of the Republican candidates for first choice Roosevelt received 7,802, or a clear majority of all the votes cast by both parties. La Follette came next with 2,867, Bristow was third with 1,340, and President Taft was fourth with 769. Cummins received 233 and Beveridge 232.

For second choice La Follette led with 3,734; Bristow, 2,977; Roosevelt, 1,567; Beveridge, 1,274. President Taft is fifth in this list, with 936. Cummins received 868 second choice votes. For third choice La Follette received 1,793, Cummins 1,469, Bristow 1,354. Beveridge 1,135 and President Taft 437. On the blank spaces the Socialists voted for Fred Warren and Debs, Warren receiving 470 and Debs 440. Of the scattering Democratic votes Bryan received 294 and Folk 100.

Of the Democratic votes Champ Clark received more than Wilson—635 to 235. But on second choice Wilson received 603 to Clark's 435.

Adding Roosevelt's first and second choice votes together, he has 9,369, while President Taft's first and second choice total amounts to 1,750.

La Follette's Vote a Surprise.

Next to the big vote cast for Roosevelt politicians will find food for reflection in the vote of La Follette. On first choice the Wisconsin senator was second with 2,837, but with his second choice votes added he received 6,601, showing that much of the Roosevelt strength is for La Follette for second choice. Bristow received 4,317 by this addition.

Adding all the votes, first, second and third choice, Roosevelt and La Follette lead, with Bristow third, 9,369, 8,304 and 5,671. President Taft is sixth in this list with 2,142, the last of the Republican candidates mentioned.

HIS WISH GRATIFIED.

Doctor Wanted Pets, and Now His Home Resembles a Zoo.

Several weeks ago Dr. Edwin G. Sugg of Chicago attended a reception during which a group of guests were discussing pets. Every one but Dr. Sugg appeared to have some sort of pet, and he remarked that he would like to possess a "critter."

Two days after the reception an express messenger delivered a box from which emanated peevish growls, and, opening it, Dr. Sugg found a fine Boston bull terrier. He was pleased.

Next came three white spinning mice, which were pretty and dainty, and again the doctor was pleased. The next day a large parcel arrived, and when Dr. Sugg opened it he found a cage containing two canaries. Still he did not "tumble." While he was admiring the canaries an expressman arrived with a parcel from which water was dripping. When Dr. Sugg tore away the wrappings he found a bowl containing three goldfish.

The next contribution was a white rabbit, and Dr. Sugg began to lose his temper. He lost it entirely the following day when he opened a package and found three doves, stuffed. Several days passed and he was beginning to breathe easily when along came another package containing two stuffed and mounted roosters. Dr. Sugg then and there determined to accept no more parcels unless marked with the name of the sender. But while he was away along came an enormous packing box which was accepted by some one else at the house. It contained a stuffed horse.

Cream Colored Postal Cards.

Cream colored postal cards printed in red are to take the place of the old cards of commonplace black ink design. It is said that the new cards will be of more attractive appearance. Last year the government issued $71,318,000 postal cards, the total cost of which was $273,000 or $4,000 in excess of the cost of the cards issued the year preceding, against which so many complaints had been made. The new card will cost approximately $65,000 more than the present card.

Our greatest concern is, how will John D. make a living?

Lady Decies being unable to deny herself any luxury, has been operated on for appendicitis.

Mexican mess will seem like smoking the pipe of peace to Henry Stimson, after his experience with the war paint and tomahawks of Tammany politics.

The informer Abbatmaggio was called a hyena in the Camorra trial. In our country the witnesses feel like hyenas after the lawyers get through with them.

Senator Stone of Missouri wants to intervene in Mexico. The other senators wish El Paso people were less curious and a little more disposed to run.

Four battalions of suffragettes are besieging the New York Legislature. Someone should ask them how many husbands they left at home with cold dinners and no pie cooked.

They say Roosevelt is going hunting in Greenland in 1912. Tender-hearted people will lament because the polar bears will end their lives with a rifle instead of by starvation.

The Yaqui Indians are dangerous again. They can't help questioning sometimes why the pale face expected them to give their land away and yet look good natured.

Senator Stone asserts that farm wages are higher in Canada than in the United States, and quotes some Saskatchewan figures to prove it. If the senator will take the whole range of Canadian wages he will find them lower than in the United States, and this is the reason why more than 1,200,000 persons of Canadian birth are included in the present population of this country.

HARGROVE & MULLIN

Of the three Democratic candidates for president Gov. Wilson is the better educated. Gov. Harmon has had the widest experience and Col. Bryan is most familiar with the track.

The politicians are kicking over the $29,000 for children's bureau, to protect 30,000,000 children in this country. Meanwhile they spend four times that amount for a public building to make some one horse town vote the right ticket.

There has been many complaints against holding the Orr revival meeting in a tabernacle. There are many advantages to the plan which has been perfected by the committees in charge of the work. There is no doubt that the religious enthusiasm incident to a great revival meeting will reach more people from a large board structure which seems and is common, than will from the carpeted floors and gorgeously decorated churches. The committees have acted wisely in deciding for the tabernacle as in that manner it can be made a much more popular meeting and will accomplish a great deal more good. The time may not be that which is best suited to a protracted meeting but it must be considered that few great evangelists will not visit so small a city as this in the season when they are most in demand.

We have noticed various comments of late in the newspapers relating to the remarkable growth of advertising, says the American Press. The statements relate to the increased display matter not only in newspapers, but in magazines as well.

The writers, however, remain content with stating the bare facts as regards the greater amount of space used now in comparison with that of a few years ago and fail to analyze the cause of this really amazing growth.

So far as the increase of advertising in general is concerned, we believe that it is caused by the increase of competition in business. Commercial rivalry was never more keen than it is today, and the producer who lags behind in the publicity procession has only himself to blame for small sales, small profits and limited reputation.

Advertising is the staff of commercial life. Advertising is the wheel-horse of mercantile progress.

The merchant who has competition to meet can not afford to offer the best articles on the market and rest assured that his rightful share of trade will come to him. He must tell the people about these articles or they will lie dust covered on his shelves.

Then, too, the increase in the wealth of the country multiplies activities that have use for advertising space.

So far as the newspapers alone are concerned, they are not only benefiting from the causes mentioned, but their advertising is rapidly expanding owing to the better idea of their value as publicity mediums had by advertisers and the public. The space buying public is coming more than ever to realize that the best method of reaching the people of purchasing power is to use the newspapers. Magazines hit any special piece of territory in spots; the local newspapers cover it entirely. Billboards are rarely impressive to large numbers of people in high class communities, and street car advertising is valuable only in the large cities.

The increase of advertising in the country newspapers is almost entirely due to the growing knowledge of their undoubted merits on the part of users of space. This field, neglected by many advertising managers for years, appears to be nearing the time when it will come into its own. These papers have suffered a great deal from the monopolization of the foreign advertising field by the magazines of large circulation.

But the trend is gradually swinging the other way. Magazine advertisers are becoming newspaper advertisers. The number that has changed is small as yet, but the movement has begun. That is the point of importance to the newspapers of the country.

EDITORIALETTES.

Lot of drunks are seeking the inviting shade of the "cooler" these days.

And that man who ran his wife out of the house with a gun last night, threatening to kill her and disturbing the whole neighborhood, wasn't colled until this morning.

We can't hardly see how the Indianapolis Fourth will be "safe and sane" this year, if all of the oratory is set off as planned.

Yes, Clarence, our definition of a highbrow would be one of those fellows, who takes cold baths, eats slowly and keeps dumbbells in his room.

While the government is probing the shoe machinery trust, we wish it would find out why shoe soles wear out so quickly.

They might also submit a plan to be followed by girls who buy shoes to fit their little sister's feet.

Out on the park bench (of course, y'o know, we don't refer to Rushville) it's the same old scene and the same old plot but a new set of actors.

Understand that there is a lot of difference between strawberry shortcake and shortberry strawenake.

Y'suppose the street sweeper swept itself away?

It's well to furnish an appendix to explain some witticisms.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

That Will be a Subject Discussed at Sunday School Convention.

Prof. R. A. Ogg, who comes here June 1 to work in the Rush County Sunday School Convention will discuss the needs of the Intermediate Department of the Sunday school. Boys and girls in the intermediate department want something worth coming for every Sunday of the year. If this is not given interest will fail and "leaks" in attendance will be noted. The stage of adolescence is a very important one in the physical development of the child and the church and Sunday school should study the best plans for holding the children at this age. Everyone is urged to plan to attend this meeting and add his mite to the discussion.

SPECIAL VENIRE IS DRAWN

Twenty Jurors Are Named For Duke-Connelly Partition Suit.

A special venire of twenty jurors was drawn today for the Duke-Connelly partition suit which will be started in the circuit court next Monday. They are as follows: Francis B. Morris, Charles G. Mauzy, Lewis H. Krammes, Omer G. Gartin, William C. Culbertson, Frank L. Logan, Charles Miller, Mont. L. Stewart, Gary E. Oldham, Earl Priest, Stewart Thompson, John F. Boyd, Elmer Hungerford, George W. Looney, Seth Moore, John Ricketts, Omer Green, Elmer Morris, Thomas M. Lower, Elbert C. Davidson.

RAISED $700.

At the dedication of the Moscow Christian church Sunday, a part of the church debt was lifted. The building cost $4,000 and all but $1,500 had been paid by the time the building was completed. Sunday $700 was raised by subscription and now the debt is only $800.

WATSON TO SPEAK AT ENCAMPMENT

Will Deliver Address Before G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans in Richmond This Evening.

TALKS TO GROCERS NEXT WEEK

James E. Watson went to Richmond today to speak before the State encampment of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans tonight. He had an engagement to speak before the annual banquet at the National Manufacturers' Association in New York this evening, but cancelled that engagement to talk to the old soldiers and their sons and daughters.

Mr. Watson has accepted an invitation to speak at the annual dinner of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, which will be held in the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Wednesday evening, May 24. Charles A. Bookwalter, former mayor of Indianapolis, will act as toastmaster. Other speakers will be Governor Thomas Marshall, Senator John W. Kern, Charles W. Fairbanks, the Rev. A. B. Storms and Oscar B. McGlasson.

NO WORKHOUSE AS YET

New Castle Runs Out of Funds at Crucial Moment.

The much-talked-of workhouse at New Castle has not yet blossomed into a reality. The Henry county council appropriated $300 for the erection of the building and to purchase a car load of stone to be craked. The building has been built, the car load of stone ordered and the fund is almost exhausted. Another difficulty that has arisen is the inability of the city council to find any one to operate it. There will be no stone craked in New Castle for a while and the tramps may keep on stopping there.

WILL OBSERVE "PEACE DAY"

Appropriate Exercises to be Held in City Schools Tomorrow.

"Peace Day" will be celebrated in the city schools here tomorrow with special exercises. Peace day is the anniversary of the Hague Tribunal and the observance will be in commemoration of the event. The purpose of this day will be to bring before the pupils the idea of patriotism and the exercises will be along the patriotic line. In recent years this event has grown in favor and is now considered worthy of notice in all the schools.

FAILS TO MATERIALIZE

Williams' Endorsement Meeting to be Held Last Night is Called Off.

The endorsement meeting which was planned for Prof. J. H. Williams to be held at the Main Street Christian church last night did not materialize. Only about twenty people gathered for the lecture and for that reason it was abandoned. Prof. Williams has been employed by the International Reform Bureau to speak on the temperance question to the people of his own race in Texas this summer. The Rev. Isaac J. Lansing, general secretary of the bureau, was here to speak. The promoters of the public gathering were greatly disappointed by the fact that Rushville people did not show a greater interest in the success of Prof. Williams.

AMUSEMENTS

The Portola Photoplay will have the usual change of program tonight. The first picture will be an Edison drama, "Baby's Fall." It is said to be a very fine picture, full of human interest and dramatic situations. The other picture is a Vitagraph feature film, "Easter Babies." This one is a pretty juvenile picture of childish belief, innocence and simplicity. Mr. Charles VanCamp will sing a new illustrated song.

The Star Grand will present three pictures tonight. The first is an American drama entitled "Memories." The second is an American comedy entitled "Hypnotizing a Hypnotist." It is a tale of merriment. The third picture is an Itala comedy entitled "Foolshead at the Kinematograph." The famous comedian attends a moving picture show and takes exception to the acting of the characters on the screen, getting into a peck of trouble. It is a screamingly funny subject. Earl Robertson will sing a new song.

The Vaudeville show three exceptionally good films tonight. "While There's Life There's Hope" is an Imp drama that is said to be among the best that have been shown here recently. The Vaudeville has been enjoying good crowds in the last few nights and the managers declare that the program tonight which includes a Pathe will attract even more people. The Pathe reel includes the pictures, "Funny Fishing and Elephants in India."

RUSHVILLE IS SECOND.

Rushville won second in the triangular track and field meet at Connersville Saturday is the assertion of the local team and coach even though both New Castle papers contend that New Castle won first. The controversy hinged on the counting of three points on the relay race which New Castle won. The local team contends that no copy of the agreement was had and for that reason the relay should not be counted in the final score.

KEITH OF THE BORDER

A TALE OF THE PLAINS

CHAPTER I.

The Plainsman.

The man was riding just below the summit of the ridge, occasionally lifting his head so as to gaze across the crest, shading his eyes with one hand, to thus better concentrate his vision. Both horse and rider plainly exhibited signs of weariness, but every movement of the latter showed ceaseless vigilance, his glance roaming the barren ridges, a brown Winchester lying cocked across the saddle pommel, his left hand taut on the rein. Yet the horse he bestrode scarcely required restraint, advancing slowly, with head hanging low, and only occasionally breaking into a brief trot under the impetus of the spur.

The rider was a man approaching thirty, somewhat slender and long of limb, but possessing broad, squared shoulders above a deep chest, sitting the saddle easily in plainsman fashion, yet with an erectness of carriage which suggested military training. The face under the wide brim of the weather-worn slouch hat was clean-shaven, browned by sun and wind, and strongly marked, the chin slightly prominent, the mouth firm, the gray eyes full of character and daring. His dress was that of rough service, plain leather "chaps," showing marks of hard usage, a gray woolen shirt turned low at the neck, with a kerchief knotted loosely about the shaven throat. At one hip dangled the holster of a "forty-five," on the other hung a canvas-covered canteen. His figure and face to be noted anywhere, a man from whom you would expect both thought and action, and one who seemed to exactly fit into his wild environment.

Where he rode was the very western extreme of the prairie country, billowed like the sea, and from off the crest of its higher ridges, the wide level sweep of the plains was visible, extending like a vast brown ocean to the foothills of the far-away mountains. Yet the actual commencement of that drear, barren expanse was fully ten miles distant, while all about where he rode the conformation was irregular, comprising narrow valleys and swelling mounds, with here and there a sharp ravine, riven from the rock and invisible until one drew up startled at its very brink. The general trend of depression was undoubtedly southward leading toward the valley of the Arkansas, yet irregular ridges occasionally cut across, adding to the confusion. The entire surrounding landscape presented the same aspect, with no special object upon which the eye could rest for guidance—no tree, no upheaval of rock, no peculiarity of summit, no snake-like trail—all about extended the same dull, dead monotony of brown, sun-baked hills, with slightly greener depressions lying between, interspersed by patches of sand or the white gleam of alkali. It was a dreary, deserted land, parched under the hot summer sun, brightened by no vegetation, excepting sparse bunches of buffalo grass or an occasional stunted sage bush, and disclosing nowhere the slightest sign of human habitation.

The rising sun reddened the crest of the hills, and the rider, halting his willing horse, sat motionless, gazing steadily into the southwest. Apparently he perceived nothing there unusual, for he slowly turned his body about in the saddle, sweeping his eyes, inch by inch, along the line of the horizon, until the entire circuit had been completed. Then his compressed lips smiled slightly, his hand unconsciously patting the horse's neck.

"I reckon we're still alone, old girl," he said quietly, a bit of Southern drawl in the voice. "We'll try for the trail, and take it easy."

He swung stiffly out of the saddle, and with reins dangling over his shoulder, began the slower advance on foot, the exhausted horse trailing behind. His was not a situation in which one could feel certain of safety, for any ridge might conceal the wary, loathsome he sought to avoid, yet he proceeded now with renewed confidence. It was the summer of 1868, and the place the very heart of the Indian country, with every separate tribe ranging between the Yellowstone and the Brazos, either restless or openly on the war-path. Rumors of atrocities were being retold the length and breadth of the border, and every report drifting in to either fort or settlement only added to the alarm. For once at least the Plains Indians had discovered a common cause, tribal differences had been adjusted in war against the white invaders, and Kiowa, Comanches, Arapahoes, Cheyennes and Sioux had become welded together in savage brotherhood. To oppose them were the scattered and unorganized settlers lining the more eastern streams, guarded by small detachments of regular troops posted here and there amid that broad wilderness, scarcely within touch of each other.

Everywhere beyond these lines of patrol wandered roaming war parties, attacking travelers on the trails, raiding exposed settlements, and occasionally venturing to try open battle with the small squads of armed men. In this stress of sudden emergency—every available soldier on active duty—civilians had been pressed into service, and hastily despatched to warn exposed settlers, guide wagon trains, or carry despatches between outposts. And thus our rider, Jack Keith, who knew every foot of the plains lying between the Republican and the Canadian rivers, was one of these thus suddenly requisitioned, merely because he chanced to be discovered unemployed by the harassed commander of a cantonment just without the environs of Carson City. Twenty minutes later he was riding swiftly into the northwest, bearing important news to General Sheridan, commander of the Department, who happened at that moment to be at Fort Cairnes. To Keith this had been merely another page in a career of adventure; for him to take his life in his hands had long ago become an old story. He had quietly performed the special duty allotted him, watched a squadron of troopers trot forth down the valley of the Republican, received the hasty thanks of the peppery little general, and then, having nothing better to do, traded his horse in at the government corral for a fresh mount and started back again for Carson City. For the greater portion of two nights and a day he had been in the saddle, but he was accustomed to this, for he had driven more than one bunch of longhorns up the Texas trail; and as he had slept three hours at Cairnes, and as his nerves were like steel, the thought of danger gave him slight concern. He was thoroughly tired, and it rested him to get out of the saddle, while the freshness of the morning air was a tonic, the very breath of which made him forgetful of fatigue.

After all, this was indeed the very sort of experience which appealed to him, and always had—this life of peril in the open, under the stars and the sky. He had constantly experienced it for so long now, eight years, as to make it seem merely natural. While he ploughed steadily forward through the shifting sand of the coulee, his thought drifted idly back over those years, and sometimes he smiled, and occasionally frowned, as various incidents returned to memory. It had been a rough life, yet one not unusual to those of his generation. Born of excellent family in Tidewater Virginia, his father a successful planter, his mother had died while he was still in early boyhood, and he had grown up cut off from all womanly influence. He had barely attained his majority, a senior at William and Mary's College, when the Civil War came; and one month after Virginia cast in her lot with the South, he became a sergeant in a cavalry regiment commanded by his father. He had enjoyed that life and won his spurs, yet it had cost. There was much not over-pleasant to remember, and those strenuous years of almost ceaseless fighting, of long night marches, of swift, merciless raiding, of lonely scouting within the enemy's lines, of severe wounds, hardship and suffering, had left their marks on both body and soul. His father had fallen on the field at Antietam, and left him utterly alone in the world, but he had fought on grimly to the end, until the last flag of the Confederacy had been furled. By that time, upon the collar of his tattered gray jacket appeared the tarnished insignia of a captain. The quick tears dimmed his eyes even now as he recalled anew that final parting following Appomattox, the battle-worn faces of his men, and his own painful journey homeward, defeated, wounded and penniless. It was no home when he got there, only a heap of ashes and a few weed-grown acres. No familiar face greeted him; not even a slave was left.

He had honestly endeavored to remain there, to face the future and work it out alone; he persuaded himself to feel that this was his paramount duty to the state, to the memory of the dead. But those very years of army life made such a task impossible; the dull, dead monotony of routine, the loneliness, the slowness of results, became intolerable. As it came to thousands of his comrades, the call of the West came to him, and at last he yielded, and drifted toward the frontier. The life there fascinated him, drawing him deeper and deeper into its swirling vortex. He became freighter, mail carrier, hunter, government scout, cowboy, foreman. Once he had drifted into the mountains, and took a chance in the mines, but the wide plains called him back once more to their desert loneliness. What an utter waste it all seemed, now that he looked back upon it. Eight years of fighting, hardship and rough living, and what had they brought him? The reputation of a hard rider, a daring player at cards, a quick shot, a scouter of danger, and a bad man to fool with—that was the whole of a record hardly won. The man's eyes hardened, his lips set firmly, as this truth came crushing home. A pretty life story surely, one to be proud of, and with probably no better ending than an Indian bullet, or the flash of a revolver in some barroom fight.

The narrow valley along which he was traveling suddenly changed its direction, compelling him to climb the rise of the ridge. Slightly below the summit he halted. In front extended the wide expanse of the Arkansas valley, a scene of splendor under the golden rays of the sun, with vivid contrast of colors, the gray of rocks, the yellow of sand, the brown of distant hills, the green of vegetation, and the silver sheen of the stream half hidden behind the fringe of cottonwoods lining its banks. This was a sight Keith had often looked upon, but always with appreciation, and for the moment his eyes swept across from bluff to bluff without thought except for its wild beauty. Then he perceived something which instantly startled him into attention—yonder, close beside the river, just beyond that ragged bunch of cottonwoods, slender spirals of blue smoke were visible. That would hardly be a camp of freighters at this hour of the day, and besides, the Santa Fe trail along here ran close in against the bluff, coming down to the river at the ford two miles further west. No party of plainsmen would ever venture to build a fire in so exposed a spot, and no small company would take the chances of the trail. But surely that appeared to be the flap of a canvas wagon top a little to the right of the smoke, yet all was so far away he could not be certain. He stared in that direction a long while, shading his eyes with both hands, unable to decide. There were three or four moving black dots higher up the river, but

CHILDREN'S HAIR

Keep it Free From Dandruff and it Will Grow Lovely.

Being the best hair dressing for men and women. Parisian Sage is also best for children. Try it once and see how clean and healthy it keeps the scalp.

"My daughter used Parisian Sage on her children's hair and it is as good as you recommended it to be."—Hannah Anderson, 1021 Divine St., Columbia, S. C.

Here is what a North Dakota woman says:

"Parisian Sage certainly has done my hair a lot of good, and will highly recommend it as a very good tonic for the hair. Have used various kinds of tonics and have found Parisian Sage the best. I have my head free from dandruff now, and it has a healthy luster and has an even color. It used to be streaky. Many of my friends are using it and they speak highly of it."—Mrs. Anna Rooney, 101 Second street, N. Fargo, N. D.

Always bear in mind that there is nothing for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage. There are many imitations but none of them are guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

A large bottle costs 50 cents at F. B. Johnson & Co., and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.

The splendid work of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is daily coming to light. No such grand remedy for liver and bowel troubles was ever known before. Thousands bless them for curing constipation, sick headache, biliousness, jaundice and indigestion. Sold by all dealers.

So far away he could not distinguish whether men or animals. Only as outlined against the yellow sand dunes could he tell they were advancing westward toward the ford.

Decidedly puzzled by all this, yet determined to solve the mystery and unwilling to remain hidden there until night, Keith led his horse along the slant of the ridge, until he attained a sharp break through the bluff leading down into the valley. It was a rugged gash, nearly impassable, but a half hour of toil won them the lower prairie, the winding path preventing the slightest view of what might be meanwhile transpiring below. Once safely out in the valley the river could no longer be seen, while barely a hundred yards away, winding along like a great serpent, ran the deeply rutted trail to Santa Fe. In neither direction appeared any sign of human life. As near as he could determine from those distant cottonwoods outlined against the sky, for the smoke spirals were too thin by then to be observed, the spot sought must be considerably to the right of where he had emerged. With this idea in mind he advanced cautiously, his every sense alert, searching anxiously for fresh signs of passage or evidence of a wagon train having deserted the beaten track, and turned south. The trail itself, dustless and packed hard, revealed nothing, but some five hundred yards beyond the ravine he discovered what he sought—here two wagons had turned sharply to the left, their wheels cutting deeply enough into the prairie sod to show them heavily laden. With the experience of the border he was able to determine that these wagons were drawn by mules, two span of each, their small hoofs clearly defined on the turf, and that they were being driven rapidly, on a sharp trot as they turned, and then, a hundred feet further, at a slashing gallop. Just outside their trail appeared the marks of a galloping horse. A few rods farther along Keith came to a confused blur of pony tracks sweeping in from the east, and the whole story of the chase was revealed as though he had witnessed it with his own eyes. They must have been crazy, or else impelled by some grave necessity, to venture along this trail in so small a party. And they were traveling west—west! Keith drew a deep breath, and swore to himself, "Of all the blame fools!"

He perceived the picture in all its gressome details—the two mule-drawn wagons moving slowly along the trail in the early morning; the band of hostile Indians suddenly swooping out from some obscure hiding place in the bluffs; the discovery of their presence; the desperate effort at escape; the swerving from the open trail in vain hope of reaching the river and finding protection underneath its banks; the frightened mules galloping wildly, lashed into a frenzy by the man on horseback; the pounding of the ponies' hoofs, punctuated by the exultant yells of the pursuers. Again he swore: "Of all the blame fools!" (To be continued.)

the commander predicts that the attendance of members will be the largest in the history of the department.
This month marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Indiana department, Sons of Veterans, the first meeting having been held in Richmond May 20, 1885 and in commemoration of the anniversary the annual session will be held here this week, with the parent body, the Grand Army of the Republic.

Commander Asbury of the Indiana department, G. A. R., reached Richmond this morning with Commander-in-Chief Gilman. The state and national commanders were met at the station by a reception committee composed of Judge Daniel W. Comstock, A. D. Gayle and Colonel J. W. Robie.
Business sessions today were confined to the council of administration of the Indiana department, G. A. R., and the administrative bodies of the several auxiliary bodies.

ACTS ON SUGGESTION

Moving Picture Show Causes Young Husband to Leave Bride.

Indianapolis, May 17.—After witnessing in a five-cent theater a recital of domestic woe that reached its climax when the husband left home, Robert Harvey, nineteen years old, left his seventeen-year-old bride of six months sitting in the theater and went to their home, where he packed his suitcase and departed.

This was the story told by Rosa Harvey when she swore out a warrant for Harvey's arrest on the charge of wife desertion. According to Mrs.
Harvey, she and her youthful husband were still living in their honeymoon, and all was happiness until they attended the motion picture show. They had had no trouble previously to that time, the girl said, and when her husband left the theater on a pretext she had no suspicions until, returning home alone, she found she had been deserted.

MAY PROVE IMPORTANT

Grand Jury to Look Over Personal Effects of John J. McNamara.

Indianapolis, May 17.—Demand for the personal effects of Secretary-Treasurer John J. McNamara of the bridge and structural iron workers, taken from his room on a search warrant, was refused by the authorities and immediately following the refusal a grand jury subpoena was issued ordering the things produced in the grand jury room.

The effects consists of revolvers, a shotgun and a number of the personal letters of McNamara which are said to contain matters that will prove important in the dynamiting cases.

Laborer's Fearful Plight.

Michigan City, Ind., May 17.—With his right foot crushed off at the ankle and the bones of the left foot crushed, John Bush, aged twenty-eight, a laborer, crawled two blocks to the doorstep of the nearest house. While walking along the Pere Marquette tracks his foot caught in a frog. A freight train came along before he could release himself and he threw his body out of the way and waited for the train to pass.

Indiana Daughters of Rebekah.

Indianapolis, May 17.—More than 1,200 women are here for the grand lodge meeting of Indiana Daughters of Rebekah. They elected Lulo B.
Keane of Jasper, president; Kate J.
Nichols of Elkhart, vice president; Ida
Vanderlin, Indianapolis, warden; Ella
Clark, Bloomington, secretary.

Mayor Shank Defends Memorial Day.

Great Revival Movement.

RELIGION TO TAKE COUNTRY BY STORM

Prediction of Leader in Great Revival Movement.

Omaha, May 17.—"Muck raking is to cease and the magazines are to turn their attention toward religion," declared James G. Cannon, president of the Fourth National bank of New York, in an address to the Ministerial union of this city. Banker Cannon is at the head of a great laymen's revival movement which contemplates taking in the whole country.

"If there is not the greatest ingath-ering to the churches it will be the fault of the men of the churches, for we are going to have the subject of religion 'played up' by the papers and magazines, that the man who wants to promulgate religion will not have a single excuse for failing to get busy among his friends and neighbors.

"The magazine editors who have been muck raking all their lives are seeing that the thing must end, and that the only step toward progress consists in building man up. Any fool can find fault, but the country is tired and the time has come to call a halt in the muckraking campaign."

Killed by Fist Blow.

Lexington, Ky., May 17.—Richard Anderson, a railroad brakeman, at a coroner's inquest was held to have been guilty of the murder of George Swope. The testimony was in effect that Anderson struck Swope with his fist, and when Swope fell his skull was fractured.

MEXICAN PEACE SEEMS ASSURED

Both Sides Now Willing to Make Concessions.

TERMS ARE BEING ARRANGED

In the Meantime, However, Madero
Has Not Relaxed His Military Vigilance and Is Preparing For a March on Chihuahua in Case There Should Prove Another Slip-Up in the Pending Negotiations.

El Paso, Tex., May 17.—Provisional President of Mexico Francisco I. Madero and Federal Peace Commissioner Francisco Carbajal both are wearing smiles and declare that the prospects are bright for peace, and that the next few hours will bring definite results.

Madero has agreed to recede from his demand for four cabinet members and accept three—the portfolios of war, justice and gubernacion, the latter meaning the control of the government of the states. The insurgents also ask fourteen of the twenty-seven governors.

Diaz wished to concede the insurrectos only one of the cabinet offices, and they at first held out for four. He was willing to permit them to have the portfolio of gubernacion, which is now vacant, the incumbent of which will have more to do with restoring peace throughout the country than any other man. Without the ministry of war and the portfolio of justice, however, the insurgents say they will be handicapped. The insurgents wish to completely overhaul the courts.

One criticism of the insurgents against the federal government has been directed against administration of the courts of Mexico, and the rebels are anxious to have political prejudice against the courts removed.

The insurgents, immediately after peace is declared, will form a political party, probably to be called the "progressive" party, and as soon as peace is completely restored and Diaz has resigned a national campaign will be launched with Francisco I. Madero as candidate for president.

It is declared that the peace pact will not be signed until Diaz and Madero have agreed on the cabinet appointees and the governors of the different states, so that there can be no chance of another break after the insurrecto army has been disbanded.
The army is to be held together and a truce is to be first declared to be made nation wide, if this is possible, so that there will be no further fighting while the two presidents are attempting to get together on the officials to be named. The insurgents are to be given the free use of the telegraph wires, it is stated, so that Madero can communicate with his men in all parts of the republic before naming those he wishes for the different positions under the government.

Madero, although perfectly confident of peace, declares that he is preparing for war. He has positive advices now that the federals have abandoned any hope they might have had of attacking Juarez, but he is still sending men south and declared positively that if peace negotiations are broken off he will attack Chihuahua. He is permitting repairs to be made to the Mexican National railroad south of here and will use the road to transport troops to a point near Chihuahua if an attack is made. If peace is declared, then the road will be ready for operation as soon as peace is restored, and considerable time will be saved.

All is quiet in Ciudad Juarez.
Stores are open. Few armed rebels are in sight. The tourist traffic has abated and the town is appearing more natural.

he disappeared, according to information in the hands of his wife, but so far as is known no letter furnishes a clue to his mysterious disappearance.

"WINDY" GOT HIS BLUFF IN FIRST

Boss of Street Gang Has Wrangle With Umpires Too Often to Allow Anything Else.

AMATEUR AUTOISTS ACT CUTE

"Windy" Morgan, "boss of the street gang" has wrangled over too many umpires' decisions to allow a couple of amateur motorists get their bluff in first. He beat 'em to it.

This morning about ten o'clock, two youngsters who are not yet able to grow a beard came spouting along in an imitation racing machine with the exhaust wide open. They were evidently "parading." At the corner of Perkins and Second streets, they found the street blockaded by the construction company's teams and men and they at once ordered the wagons and men moved aside. "Windy" showed them "the long way round" and told them briefly that the construction company was paying its men to tear up the streets and not to move out of the way of transient auto drivers. The youths, they hesitated. They "chugged" around in front of the mule teams for a few minutes and burned up about three gallons of gasoline and pushing smoke into the men's eyes. They actually acted like they planned to make a straight line lunge, but they thought better of that. Daring by one of the mule teams, they "cut loose" and frightened the animals. They were stopped before any damage was done.

MUCH PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

In Last Week Real Estate Valued at $50,000 Has Been Bought and Sold in Rush County.

MANY BIG LAND TRANSACTIONS

Transfers in realty in Rush county and this city last week amounted to $24,445, which does not include the sale of three farms, in which the sum paid is not stipulated. The week was marked by big land sales and many acres of Rush county farm land changed hands. If the three farm sales, in which the price is not stipulated, were recorded, it is likely that the amount would be raised by something over twenty thousand dollars. A number of lot sales were recorded during the week, notably two in Cartage, one selling for $2,500 and another for $1,800. Sarah M. Moore and others sold eighty acres in Posey township to Ira L. Davis, but the price is not named. The sum paid is not named in the sale in which Ira L. Davis and others sold sixty-seven acres in Posey township to S. M. Moore. Mary C. Mahin sold forty acres in Walker township to Ralph Shelton, but the sum is not stipulated. A Manilla lot sold for $200. A number of the transfers last week were for lots in the Stewart & Tompkins addition to Belmont.
